TILES, WOOD FLOORING AND BATHROOMS FOR HOMEOWNERS AND DESIGNERS

Claybrook.

The team at Claybrook Studio have been busy bees developing this launch collection of bathroom product. Encompassing an array of designs they share the same Claybrook DNA that allowed us to hit the ground sprinting with our tiles in 2018.

Most of us start with the basin and console when rethinking our bathrooms. Our Smithfield and Spitalfields basins are particular favourites back at Claybrook HQ with their funky aesthetic and integrity of design, whilst other basins like the Ouna and Charon are more transitional pieces looking great in both modern or classic interiors.

All of our new products were designed to be used both in a complementary way, or as individual pieces as part of an eclectic scheme. The brassware, such as taps and mixers, embrace time-honoured styles and also those that break with tradition. When it comes to baths, some clients require a space saving solution. Our built-in enamel steel baths are perfect for dinkier rooms where elbow room is at a premium. Freeing up floor space, they allow rooms to breathe and for sinks and consoles to share equal billing.

Meanwhile, our Marbleform baths and basins are not just impressively good looking but naturally eco-friendly. Each is 100% recyclable with a high level of natural recycled stone content and emits 0% carbon waste. Hand polished for over 60 hours, both baths and basins are stain resistant, heat retentive and repairable.

Some clients are after a more eye-catching option to anchor a design. The Copper baths provide a luxuriously enveloping bathing experience being great heat conductors, as well as being stylishly statement making.

The Claybrook look can also be finished with shower trays and accessories, alongside the gorgeous tile collections for both wall and floor. Indeed, the entire portfolio has been put together with passion by a team pernickety about providing pieces to treasure.
